

Public transportation and how to find Aarhus University in Roskilde:

Good to know: Although we are part of Aarhus University, in Aarhus, we are located a few kilometers north of the city of Roskilde, and Roskilde is about 30 km west of Copenhagen.

There are following ways to get to Roskilde:

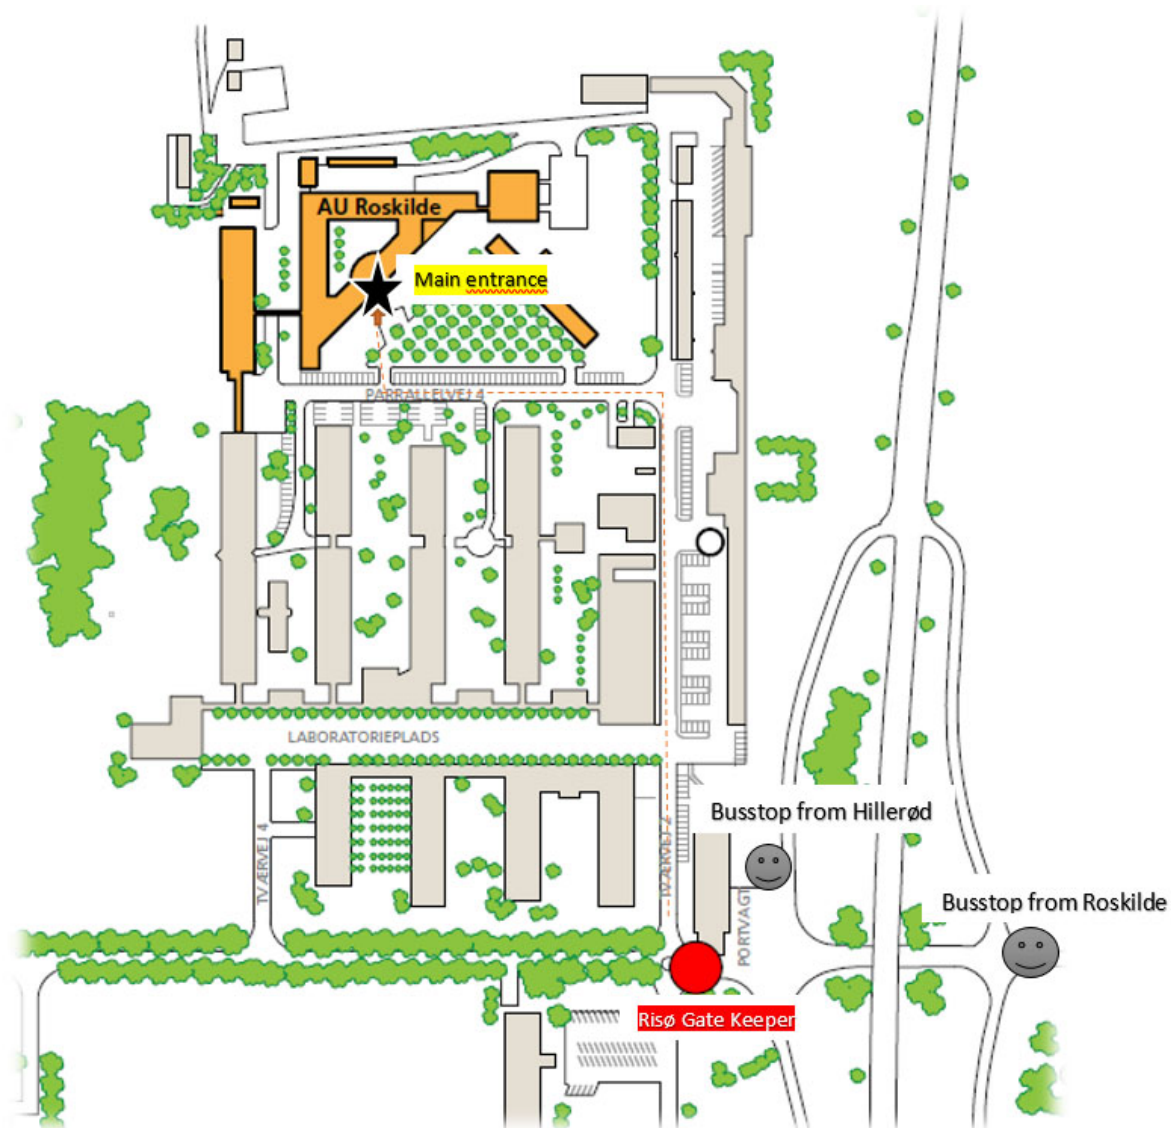

Train from the airport to Roskilde runs every 20-25 minutes and the trip takes approx. 50 minutes from the airport. Maybe you have to change train at Copenhagen Central Station (Københavns Hovedbanegård). You can also use this journey planner: <https://www.rejseplanen.dk>, which give you a more detailed overview (change language to English). You can buy tickets from the ticket machines placed at the platforms. They accept major credit cards. A train ticket from the Airport to Roskilde is around DKK. 92 (13€). A ticket from Roskilde St. to Aarhus University, Roskilde (located at Risø) is around DKK. 16 (€ 2,50)

To get to the university, you can take a bus from Roskilde Central Station to Aarhus University, Roskilde (located at Risø). Take bus 600S from Roskilde (towards Hillerød). You can find the bus stop on the opposite site of the train station building; close to the local hospital, Ny Østergade (use the pedestrian tunnel at the west end of the platform). The bus ride from the station to the University takes approx. 15-20 minutes. Get off at the Risø bus stop (smiley on map), and report to Risø Gate Keeper (red spot on map) at the gate. They will provide you with a guest pass. Then walk/drive to Aarhus University and report to your host at the main entrance (★ on the map).
